

Hello There,

We understand that some customers are forced to adapt their operations in this environment, either by temporarily shutting down facilities, or operating in a new way. This presents increased risk if they are performing new tasks or asking employees to assume unfamiliar duties.

Acadia is here to help. Here is a link to risk management resources and best practices you can share with clients to help them mitigate their risk.

If there are other resources you are seeking on behalf of a client, please contact me or reach out directly to our virtual loss control team, who are ready to assist at virtuallc@acadia-ins.com.

Please also remember to contact me regarding any operational changes that insureds are considering so we can discuss! Stay well.
